Your regional council

BMA regional councils operate in England. Regional councils are open to all BMA members and provide a forum for discussing matters of regional interest and issues affecting the profession across all branches of practice. There are ten regional councils in England:

- East Midlands
- Eastern
- London
- North East
- North Western
- South Central
- South East Coast
- South West
- West Midlands
- Yorkshire

The Yorkshire regional council (YRC) provides a focus for BMA activity at a regional level, delivering BMA policy and providing a communication link between the council and the BMA UK council. The YRC covers West, North, East and South Yorkshire, and North Lincolnshire. It brings together all BMA members to discuss issues affecting the profession. You can raise issues with the YRC via email: inbox.northerncentre@bma.org.uk

Representing members at a local level

Doctors and medical students are also represented through branch of practice committees, divisions, and our network of LNCs and LMCs.

Committees meet regularly to consider issues affecting the medical profession and patient healthcare in the Yorkshire region and are supported by BMA staff from the member relations directorate.

Every BMA member in the Yorkshire region is allocated to one of 10 local divisions, which represent members in all disciplines geographically. Active divisions have a secretary, a chair and other executive committee members. BMA divisions submit motions to the ARM (annual representative meeting) which, if passed, become national BMA policy.

We have also established a network of LNCs (local negotiating committees) in trusts throughout the region. These committees ensure that the voice of the medical profession is heard by management in the workplace. Your representatives make sure that the interests of doctors are protected in negotiations on terms and conditions of service through these LNCs.

Representatives of all local LNCs meet as the regional LNC Forum to discuss all issues in the Yorkshire region and to share best practice.

LMCs (Local Medical Committees) represent GPs and practice teams in their negotiations with decision makers and stakeholders from health and local government to get the best services for patients.

LMCs contribute to the wider activities of the BMA in the region but are not BMA committees, rather they are independent statutory bodies. Members of the LMC are elected by local GPs.
Representing branches of practice

Working across the Yorkshire region, there are branch of practice committees that feed in local members’ comments and views to the national branch of practice committees.

Yorkshire regional consultants committees (YRCC)
This is the representative body for all consultants in the Yorkshire region. YRCC members are elected to the national consultants committee and provide an important link between the national body and the BMA locally.

Divisions

All BMA members are allocated to a local division. Divisions provide an opportunity for members to discuss issues that impact on all branches of a practice and to debate local matters with other members in the area.

If you are actively involved with your division, don’t miss out on the D circulars which contain important information about upcoming events such as the ARM (Annual Representative Meeting). You can also download our support guide on our website for honorary secretaries describing what divisions can do.

LMCs (local medical committees)

LMCs (local medical committees) are local representative committees of NHS GPs and represent the interests of all NHS GPs in their localities to the NHS health authorities. They interact and work with — and through — the general practitioners committee, as well as other branch of practice committees and local specialist medical committees in various ways, including conferences.

The LMC conference takes place annually and, locally LMCs hold various social and educational events throughout the year.

Industrial relations support

We employ a team of experienced and specialist staff to support members in all branches of practice. We provide advice on terms and conditions of service and take up issues on our members’ behalf with employers, and represent members at grievance disputes and disciplinary hearings.

We also undertake detailed negotiations and consultations with government and NHS employers, making sure that the voice of the medical profession is heard, and that doctors’ views are effectively communicated at every level.

Childcare

We have a family-friendly fund to help our committee members participate fully in current expenses-qualifying activities. We can provide care facilities for children under 14 years and adults and children requiring care. If you require care for a dependent you must request this four weeks before the event or meeting. For more information or for an application form contact your committee secretariat or BMA staff contact. See bma.org.uk/about-the-bma/equality-and-diversity/care-guidelines for the full guidelines and conditions.

You can claim for reasonable childcare costs incurred while attending BMA meetings as follows:

– The expenses should be those which are necessary, reasonable and additional to the childcare costs you would be paying had you not been attending a BMA meeting on the day in question. For example; an additional amount paid to a casual carer because of an earlier start and/or later finish; paying for childcare on a day when you would otherwise be looking after the child/children yourself.

– Free childcare is available at BMA House (in the form of a mobile crèche), provided you give sufficient notice for meetings at BMA House.

– If you bring your children with you, please use transport companies offer of free travel for children and babies — children under five years travel free on trains and children under two years travel free on aeroplanes.

Contact the relevant committee secretary in advance of booking travel for more information and to seek approval of additional costs.
