Your committee
Welsh junior doctors committee (WJDC)

Committees play an important role at the BMA. They represent members’ views across branches of practice, specialisms, and professional activities and provide expert views and opinions to shape our strategies and policies.

2018-19
The BMA can only function with the contributions of those members who seek election as representatives. Thank you for making the commitment to help represent your colleagues. In order that elected BMA representatives can work together effectively the following principles are important.

- When you are speaking to or communicating in the broadcast, print or social media as an elected BMA representative, or are identified as such, you should honestly represent the views of the BMA.
- When speaking in a personal capacity you should explicitly ask not to be identified as an elected BMA representative.
- Committee officers should coordinate media engagements with the press office.
- You should declare conflicts of interest to your committee chair/committee executive officer as appropriate.
- You should uphold the confidentiality of your committee when requested. If in doubt, ask the chair of committee.
- As a member of the medical profession and as an elected representative, you should behave in a professional manner always. Robust debate is sometimes essential in forming policy, but you should always treat patients, colleagues and staff with respect.

In standing for election, you agree to uphold these principles as set out above. The information that you provide to the BMA will be processed in accordance with the data protection principles as set out in the General Data Protection Regulation and the UK Data Protection Act 2018.
Introduction from the Chair,
Dr Josie Cheetham

Welcome to the Welsh junior doctors committee (WJDC), I’m Josie Cheetham, a trainee in Acute Care Common Stem (Anaesthetics) in Aneurin Bevan University Health Board.

WJDC takes your views, needs and concerns directly to the leadership of the organisations responsible for training and workplace conditions. We meet, challenge and suggest innovations to key stakeholders based on a diverse range of issues including but not exclusive to: training, employment issues, working conditions and wellbeing. We advocate for the value junior doctors have now, and our future potential.

In the 2017-18 session we secured a commitment to embed the principles of the BMA’s fatigue and facilities charter across Wales, worked with the GMC to produce a letter on the importance of robust rota monitoring, secured agreement from the Wales Deanery to remove the ARCP unfavourable outcome link to non-participation in the GMC national training survey and Wales Deanery end of placement survey and we represented junior doctor concerns about the current F2 matching process. We took and continue to take forward junior doctor in Wales’ concerns in light of the Bawa Garba ruling and how these can be addressed with stakeholders.

Our aim for the 2018-19 session is to continue progressing on the good work already achieved by WJDC. We continue to be challenged with working and training in the context of an NHS under pressure. There are many promising avenues that lie ahead which we will continue to work toward, such as a single lead employer for hospital based trainees and a Whistleblowing agreement that we hope will be finalised in the near future.

I am grateful that you have committed to contributing to WJDCs efforts and look forward to working with you to ensure we champion the views of our members.

Thank you for your support

Dr Josie Cheetham
Chair of the Welsh junior doctors committee
Welsh junior doctors committee

About the committee
WJDC stands up for the rights of junior doctors on education, training and contractual issues representing their views to the Welsh Government, the postgraduate deanery and local health boards.

The committee meets four times a year at the BMA Cymru Wales office in Cardiff.

You can find out more about WJDC on the BMA website bma.org.uk/WJDC

Remit of the committee
To consider and act on issues affecting those engaged in the training grades in Wales in order to safeguard their interests. To work with and make representations to the Welsh Government, the postgraduate deanery and local health boards on behalf of junior doctors.

To contribute to the work of the UK junior doctors committee, ensuring that the views of junior doctors in Wales are represented. To work in co-operation with the BMA Welsh council and other committees that represent various branches of practice of the medical profession in Wales.

Membership of the committee
WJDC is composed of:
– The chair, elected by members of WJDC
– The vice chair, elected by members of WJDC
– At least one named self-nominated representative from each Welsh NHS local health board or trust employed in the training grades in Wales

Abertawe Bro Morgannwg University LHB
Aneurin Bevan LHB
Betsi Caswaladr University LHB
Cwm Taf LHB
Hywel Dda LHB
Powys LHB
Public Health Wales
Velindre NHS Trust
GP Speciality Trainees

There are also a number of ex officio members who hold positions on the WJDC by virtue of their office within the BMA. They do not have voting rights.
Your committee — Welsh junior doctors committee (WJDC)

These are:
- Chair of Welsh council
- Chair or vice chair of Welsh medical students committee
- One representative of the Welsh consultants committee
- One representative of Welsh staff, associate specialists and specialty doctors committee
- One representative of the Welsh committee for public health medicine
- One representative of the Welsh committee for general practitioners

Your role as a committee member

Being a member of WJDC requires a commitment to represent the views of your fellow junior doctors. You will be acting on issues that have a direct impact on junior doctors in Wales.

As an active member of WJDC you are expected to:
- Actively engage in the business of WJDC
- Participate in the decision making process whether in meetings, or by written, or electronic communication
- Facilitate communication between WJDC and junior doctors
- Seek junior doctors’ views on issues that affect them so that the WJDC is fully representative of the junior doctors body
- Take in account, in formulating arguments, the views of junior doctors you represent
- Report issues of concern, brought to your attention by fellow junior doctors, to the WJDC
- Within existing structures, identify and act on local issues on behalf of junior doctors
- Report back to fellow junior doctors on the work being undertaken by the WJDC
- Work with fellow committee members to achieve the objectives identified in the WJDC’s yearly work plan
Your committee – Welsh junior doctors committee (WJDC)

Roles of other committee members

Chair
The chair plays a pivotal role within the WJDC. Their responsibilities include:

- Abide by the BMA behaviour principles and code of conduct (link to website)
- Ensure effective working relationships between the officers and members
- Promote and ensure compliance with data protection legislation and confidentiality
- Ensure committee members are aware of their responsibilities in this area, monitor compliance and address any issues that may arise
- Work in partnership with the BMA secretariat and staff
- Facilitate change and address conflict within the committee/council
- Act as figurehead and spokesperson as appropriate
- Represent the BMA and the committee/council and the specialty/grade in discussions with stakeholders
- Keep up to date with developments
- Review committee/council governance, performance and skills
- Facilitate succession planning
- Plan, set the agenda and prepare for meetings with others as appropriate

You should uphold the confidentiality of your committee at all times. As a member of the medical profession and as an elected representative, you should behave in a professional manner at all times. You should always treat patients, colleagues and staff with respect. If you have a concern, raise it straight away with the chair of committee or with the committee executive officer.
Your committee – Welsh junior doctors committee (WJDC)

- Run meetings in accordance with governance guidance and BMA policy
- Ensure matters are dealt with in an efficient and orderly manner
- Bring impartiality and objectivity to meetings and decision making
- Maintain order during meetings, establish a finish time and prioritise items for discussion
- Ensure a fair and balanced discussion, giving every member an opportunity to contribute – including visitors as appropriate
- Aim to reach collective decisions and agreed action points, summarising these for members at the end of each agenda item and at the end of the meeting
- Ensure notes of meetings are accurate and timely and actions are taken and reported
- Ensure that regular reports to BMA Welsh council reflect the committees’ work and position
- Encourage members to contribute to consultation responses
- Contribute to and help guide list server discussions
- Take action as necessary, and in consultation as appropriate, and make decisions on behalf of the committee between meetings
- Mentor less experienced committee/council members

The chair will also take action and make decisions on behalf of the WJDC between meetings.

Vice chair

The vice chair’s responsibilities include:
- To support the chair and members of WJDC such that WJDC functions effectively and fulfils all of its responsibilities
- To chair WJDC sub-committees and working groups, as required
- To work with the chair in developing a strategic view of the work of the committee
- To keep themselves informed about developments within the remit of the committee
- To represent the WJDC as directed by the chair, in press and other media
- To be nominated deputy and/or attend other committee meetings on behalf of, or in the absence of, the WJDC chair
- To deputise in the dispensation of the chair’s duties, if for any reason the chair is unable to act, or the office of chair is vacant
- To become and remain sufficiently familiar with the role and duties of the chair to be able to act in his/her place should the necessity arise
- To liaise with the secretariat

The vice chair normally serves for a three-year term.
Ex-officio members
These members hold positions on the WJDC by virtue of their office within the BMA, for example the chairs of other Welsh branch of practice committees.

Co-optees
The committee can co-opt up to four non-voting members to provide ongoing expertise that cannot otherwise be met by the nominated membership.

Immediate past chair
The immediate past chair of WJDC is normally given co-opted status for a period being the lesser of three years or the term served by the succeeding chair.

Observers
The committee can appoint non-voting observer members to provide particular expertise and advise to members of WJDC on one or more specific matters under consideration. Observers may only attend WJDC at those times when this business is being conducted.

Visitors
The committee operates a visitor scheme to allow BMA members to attend a meeting as a visitor. This provides an opportunity to see the committee in action, and is a useful way to encourage new members to join the committee.

Voting rights
All elected members have full voting rights, including the vice chair unless s/he is acting in the capacity of chair.

The chair of the committee is only entitled to vote when there is a tie amongst the voting members for and against a motion and s/he shall have a casting vote.

Code of conduct
Members are required to familiarise themselves with the BMA’s constitution as set out in the memorandum and articles of association and bye-laws of the Association. The code of conduct provides guidance on expected behaviour and sets out the standards of conduct that support BMA's values in the work it does. (https://www.bma.org.uk/collective-voice/committees/committee-policies/bma-code-of-conduct)

Our values
Values are at the heart of an organisation and help to distinguish it from others. They guide an organisation's conduct, and its relationship with its stakeholders and the outside world. They guide us in our thinking and our actions, and enable us to set standards of behaviour against which we can assess ourselves.
The BMA values underpin policies, objectives, procedures and strategies and provide an anchor and reference point for all things that happen, and express how we look, speak and act.

Our behaviours

We have taken the BMA’s values – expert, leading, challenging, committed and reliable – and with your help, turned them into behaviours to provide clarity on what we expect from each other as we go about our work and provide a consistent approach for discussing behaviour. They describe what we expect of each other, and what we don’t, as well as what is considered above and beyond. Our behaviours form part of our culture change to become a better BMA. Our aim is to adopt them in all we do.

It is our responsibility as BMA members to role model and promote positive behaviours and to challenge poor behaviours.

Behaviour principles are:

- Be professional
- Respect others
- Be representative
- Be kind
- Be accountable

Members must act within the memorandum and articles of the Association and bye-laws of the BMA and to promote the success of the Association for the benefit of its members, and exercise reasonable care, skill and diligence in all their duties.

Attendance: Members should be able to allocate sufficient time to the Association to enable them to discharge their responsibilities effectively. Member role profiles provide further detail.

Personal conduct: Members are expected to maintain a high standard of personal conduct and to treat staff and other members with respect. In particular, members are required to promote and role model the behaviour principles outlined in this code of conduct. Doctors should display the same duty of care towards one another as they would towards patients and in the workplace.

Election behaviour: The BMA can only function with the contributions of those members who seek election as representatives. In order that elected representatives work together effectively, on standing for election, members agree to uphold the principles outlined in this code of conduct. Candidates will abide by electoral bylaws and respect other candidates. Members will not put undue pressure on other members, or staff to favour a particular candidate.
The GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) came into force from 25 May 2018. It introduced wide-ranging and significant changes to UK data protection legislation.

The BMA will be open and transparent when processing and using personal information by following 6 principles as set out in the new GDPR/DPA act:

Principle 1: Personal data shall be obtained and processed fairly, lawfully and transparent.

Principle 2: Personal data shall be obtained only for the specified and lawful purposes and shall be processed for limited purposes.

Principle 3: Personal data shall be adequate, relevant and not excessive in relation to the purpose for which it is obtained.

Principle 4: Personal data shall be accurate and kept up to date.

Principle 5: Personal data shall not be kept for longer than necessary.

Principle 6: Handled in a way that ensures appropriate security, including protection against unlawful or unauthorised processing, access, loss, destruction or damage

The GDPR will increase the penalties for transgressions from a maximum of £500k under the previous law to up to £17m or 4 per cent of turnover, whichever is higher. It strengthens existing requirements, and places greater emphasis on demonstrating compliance, as well as introducing a number of new concepts.
Due to the complex nature of the new regime for data protection laws, the BMA cannot offer comprehensive legal advice on GDPR, but rather it help you navigate the legislation and point you in the right direction for guidance on the questions you may have. Register of interests (declarations)

Members are required to complete the register of interests form which will be kept in the secretariat.

What is a conflict of interest?

A conflict of interest can be defined as a ‘set of circumstances that creates a risk that an individual’s ability to apply objective judgement or act in one role is, or could be, impaired or influenced by a secondary interest.’ (National Audit Office “Conflicts of interest”, 27 January 2015).

Conflicts of interests occur where a person acting in a representative capacity (in this case, elected and appointed members, BMA directors and representatives (hereafter referred to in the collective ‘member/s’), could be unfairly influenced by financial or other commitments into failing to represent his or her constituency adequately, or adequately discharge their responsibilities in their appointed position.

It is appropriate, therefore, that there is openness and transparency about other commitments that Members may hold. By ensuring that any potential conflicts of interest are disclosed and known to others, they are less likely to influence debates/votes in meetings etc.

The information provided by Members will be processed in accordance with data protection principles as set out in the Data Protection Act 1998. Data will be processed only for the purposes set out in this policy and not for any other purpose.
What type of information should I declare?
All Members must complete and return to the committee secretary a ‘Declaration of Interest’ form as soon as possible. Members will be responsible for notifying any changes in their registrable interests within fourteen (14) days of the change occurring to ensure that the register is kept updated.

Some guidance on the type of information which Members should consider declaring as potential conflicts of interest is set out below. It is important to note that this list is not exhaustive and it is impossible to list every potential situation or circumstance that could give rise to a conflict of interests. Members should therefore use their judgment to decide whether any of their interests should be disclosed.

Directorships and committee appointments: Both paid and unpaid directorships (including non-executive directors or senior employees) of any public or private company or other body, together with any roles or positions with other committees.

Alternative trade union membership external to the BMA: any membership of another trade union must be disclosed.

Other remunerated work: Any paid employment or other sources of income outside their normal medical work. Examples might be paid consultancy or advisory positions with government departments, pharmaceutical companies or the medical press, articles sold to the paramedical press, or remunerated speaking engagements. Also included should be work for companies active in other healthcare fields, NHS Trusts, health authorities, any NHS commissioning body or health boards and endorsements or appointments which could be used by other organisations for marketing purposes.

Gifts, benefits and hospitality: This includes any substantial gift or material advantage received by a member which in any way relates to his/her membership of BMA committees. This would include trips or visits arising out of membership, where the cost has not been wholly borne by the member or the BMA. Gifts of less than £500 in value and other benefits of less than £500 in value would be exempt, as would events to which all members are invited.
Shareholdings or other positions: Declaration of the name of any public or private company (including any not-for-profit), business, partnership or consultancy active in the field of healthcare or certain other sectors where a conflict of interest might arise (e.g., retail financial services, STM (scientific, technical and medical) publishing) in which the member holds significant shareholdings, interests or control. Significant in the context of shareholdings is defined as either (a) greater than 1 per cent of the issued share capital of the company or body, or (b) less than 1 per cent of the issued share capital but more than £25,000.

Indirect social/business relationships and family interests: These would include any close association with an individual who has a financial interest, a non-financial professional interest or a non-financial personal interest (and any other interests) of close family members/friends/business partners that might be considered relevant to an individual’s position as a member of any BMA committee.

Appointments which could lead to a commercial conflict of interests.

Potential conflicts arising from the possession of confidential information.

Miscellaneous and unremunerated interests: This includes other interests which do not fall clearly within any of the above categories, for example, an active role within a political party, membership of societies such as the Freemasons or of other organisations. Membership of, or work for, other bodies such as charities or trusts which could possibly influence a member’s position with regard to his/her BMA associated activities should also be included, as well as membership of UK Governments or Department of Health committees/working groups (or their equivalents in Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland) on which the member is not a designated BMA representative.

Members are recommended to read the complete BMA conflicts of interest policy.
Key committee dates

WJDC meetings four times each year. Members are also expected to contribute to discussions on the list-server (an e-mail group managed by the committee secretariat) and may also contribute to groups established by the chair to deal with specific areas of work and projects.

The WJDC meetings for the 2018-19 session will be held on:

- Thursday 11 October 2018
- Thursday 7th February 2019
- Thursday 4th April 2019
- Thursday 20th June 2019

All WJDC meetings are scheduled to take place at BMA Cymru Wales Office, Cardiff Bay and will usually commence at 10:00am. A buffet lunch will be provided at the end of the meeting, normally between 12:30pm and 1:00pm.

Apologies for absence

It is very important that you advise the secretariat in advance if you are unable to attend a meeting. See below for contact details. In line with council byelaws, if any elected or appointed member of the WJDC is absent from three successive meetings without good reason, or five consecutive meetings for any reason, that member shall (except in cases of illness or for some reason approved by the chair of the WJDC) be deemed to have resigned their membership.
Role of the committee executive officer

Committee executive officers work directly with the committees and their chairs providing high level support, maintaining an overview of the committee’s work and taking forward policy work not covered elsewhere.

Your committee executive officer is responsible for:
- helping you develop your work plans, working with policy colleagues to ensure that these plans fit with BMA policy priorities
- commissioning work to support those priorities
- making sure that you have the opportunity to contribute to relevant policy development
- preparing for meetings making sure that they are effective, run smoothly and that agreed actions are progressed.

Committee executive officers also undertake the production of all the associated committee agenda and minutes. The coordination and support officer assists the committee executive officers with catering arrangements, room bookings and maintaining committee listervers.

Key priorities for the committee for the 2018-19 session

The key priorities for WJDC for the 2018-19 session will be determined by the WJDC executive sub-committee in consultation with continuing and new members of WJDC.

Helping you participate

Going paperless
We recognise that we have a responsibility to promote and adopt organisational policies that support sustainable practices and improve health. We would be grateful for your support in supporting these environmentally friendly practices. All meeting papers will now be available electronically. Hard copies will be available (and posted out) on request.

Skype for Business – video conferencing facilities
For some meetings you may find it easier to join via Skype for Business video conference from your home or workplace. Video-conferencing and webcam facilities are available at BMA house, regional centres, and in the Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland offices. For more details about how to connect, see the In your area section in your pack. If you would like to video conference into a meeting, please talk to your committee secretariat or staff contact.

Skype for Business:
— lets you connect with co-workers or business partners
— start conversations with IM, voice or video calls
— see when your contacts are available online, in a meeting, or presenting — Skype for Business is industrial- strength security for meetings
— broadcast online to a large audience
— present your screen during meetings or give control to others
— use Skype for Business in other Office programs to chat, call, or join a meeting with a click.
Childcare at BMA House, London
We have a family-friendly fund to help all our members participate fully in current expenses-qualifying activities. We can provide care facilities for children under 5s, 5-14 year olds, and dependants (adults and 14-18 year olds requiring care) through the BMA family friendly fund. With a minimum of four weeks’ notice, care can be provided for approved BMA meetings at BMA House, London to minimise disruption. In order to apply for care you must complete a copy of the care requirements form, which will be available direct from our child care providers, who the committee staff or the BMA conference unit will provide contact details for.

For more information or for an application form contact ncross@bma.org.uk

See bma.org.uk/about-the-bma/equality-and-diversity/care-guidelines for the full guidelines and conditions

Baby friendly policy
Breastfeeding is supported at BMA House and other BMA offices, including in the public areas of BMA House and during meetings. We can organise a private room if requested in advance of the meeting. Additional breaks are also available during meetings if you are breastfeeding.

Prayer room
A prayer room is available at BMA House and the national offices. If you would like access to the prayer room please ask your committee secretariat or staff contact who can provide you with further details.

Catering
Members who have special dietary requirements should especially confirm their attendance at least 4 days in advance, so that the secretariat can liaise with our catering providers accordingly. Please let us know your dietary requirements and what we can do to make our meeting fully accessible to you. You can email Dulaine Mulcahy at dmulcahy@bma.org.uk or Natalie Cross at ncross@bma.org.uk.
How to claim expenses and honoraria

Expenses
You are eligible to claim expenses incurred when attending committee meetings. This includes costs of travel, subsistence and accommodation. Payments are made directly into your bank or building society accounts.

We have introduced a web-based expenses system called Concur, which replaces committee expense claim forms and the Global Expenses system. The website can be used on all current web browsers and is also available on most smart phones and tablet devices. If you have any queries regarding Concur please contact John O’Connor on 020 7383 6458.

We do not provide mobile telephones or land lines, but if you incur significant call costs on BMA business, you can submit a copy of your itemised phone bill highlighting the costs incurred on our behalf of and we will reimburse you.

Please contact Natalie Cross at ncross@bma.org.uk to get approval for expenses for other committee related activities, such as attendance at conferences or stakeholder meetings. You can find more information about how to claim expenses on our website.

Concur quick reference guide
https://www.bma.org.uk/about-us/how-we-work/committee-expenses

Reimbursement of locum costs
We will reimburse locum costs on production of receipted invoices, in line with the maximum level which is set annually by the oversight and finance committee (currently £550 per day), and where the expense would otherwise be payable by you. Locum reimbursement is available from the first meeting. If you have to pay above the level set for the year by the oversight and finance committee, you can make a claim to the remuneration committee at the end of each session showing evidence of your loss by means of receipted invoices from your locums. You’ll also need to give details of the work undertaken for us during the period of the claim.
Honoraria

Our members are entitled to claim honoraria for attendance at committee meetings or on business on behalf of the committee (including participation by video or telephone conference).

An honorarium is only payable to members who have completed twelve meeting days without payment and will not be eligible to claim an honorarium until their thirteenth attendance. This restriction underlines the fact that members are not employed by us. The rate of the honorarium will continue to be set annually by the oversight and finance committee (currently £250 per day).

You should ensure that you indicate on the meeting attendance form that you wish to claim an honorarium for that meeting by ticking the honoraria column. Payments will be made directly into your bank or building society accounts. You can find more information about how to claim honoraria on our website.

Preferential hotel rates

We have negotiated special discounts at hotels near regional headquarters in London, Scotland and Northern Ireland for use by BMA members, BMA and BMJ staff. You can see the list of hotels available for each region and details on how to book on the BMA website.

BMA listserver guidance and terms and conditions of use
Each BMA committee has a listserver, an email function that distributes an email to each contact registered with it. Examples of what is appropriate to use the listserver for include circulating documents or drafts for comments, while inappropriate use would include complaints about services to members or the actions of BMA departments. In cases where the listserver is judged to have been used inappropriately the committee chair has the right to remove access to the listserver.

Key policies

Dignity at work policy
We try to ensure that all members of staff have a safe, healthy and fair working environment. We do not tolerate bullying or harassment of any kind. Bullying may be characterised as offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, an abuse or misuse of power through means intended to undermine, humiliate, unfairly criticise or injure the recipient. Harassment includes unwanted conduct related to a protected characteristic, conduct of a sexual nature, or less favourable treatment for rejecting or submitting to unwanted conduct. You can read further details online, including what to do if a complaint is made against you and contact details for confidential support.

Defamation statement
The BMA requires all its committees to be issued with a statement on defamation at the first meeting of each political session and similar statements are provided to members of its Annual representative meeting each year.
An individual making a public statement on behalf of the BMA and its committees needs to be aware of the potential pitfalls of the law of defamation. In general, a defamatory statement is one which “tends to lower an individual’s reputation in the eyes of right thinking members of society, or which would cause him to be shunned or bring him into hatred, ridicule or contempt, or which tends to discredit him in his profession or trade.”

There are two forms of defamation – libel and slander. Libel is the publication in permanent form of a defamatory statement. Slander is its publication in transitory form. So, to give examples, typically slander is spoken unrecorded word, whereas libel includes the written form such as hard copy or electronic communications, but also spoken words that are recorded, for instance in video form, or even in a voice recording such as potentially on a voicemail. An individual can bring proceedings for libel in the absence of any proof of loss. Proceedings for slander, however, can only generally be brought if loss can be shown although there are limited exceptions such as the slander of an individual in his profession.

There are a number of defences to a claim of defamation these include:-

(a) truth – being able to show that what was said is true or substantially true;
(b) honest opinion – a statement of genuinely-held opinion on a stated factual basis;
(c) public interest defence – a defendant can avoid liability if the truth of a statement cannot be proved but if it can be established that publication was responsible and in the public interest;
(d) qualified privilege – a partial defence where the defendant can prove that the publication was in the public interest (there are two forms of qualified privilege – statutory and common law); and
(e) absolute privilege – a complete defence applying to statements made in certain situations e.g. in Parliament, between solicitor and client, statements to the police in a criminal investigation.

An action for defamation can only be brought in the High Court. Legal aid is not available and proceedings are notoriously expensive.
Where it is necessary to mention individuals or organisations, great care should be taken to ensure that no gratuitous or unsustainable comment is made, this being so whether the discussion is on or off the record. Great care must also be taken to ensure that where an issue regarding an individual or organisation is the subject of rumour, it is not given weight or authority by being publicised by the BMA to the detriment of that individual or organisation’s reputation. Similarly unsubstantiated comment should not be made about individuals and organisations.

Internet postings

There is a common misconception that because of the informal and accessible nature of the Internet, different rules apply. The position is, quite simply, that the author of material posted over the Internet is every bit as liable in defamation as the author of off-line material.

Publication of defamatory material takes place once it has been posted on the Internet. It is not necessary for an aggrieved person to prove that anyone has actually read the material. There is the added danger that the material can be accessed anywhere in the world enabling anybody who is aggrieved to sue in that country as well as here.

Website hosts may also be liable, along with the author, for publishing defamatory material if they have been made aware of its presence on a website and have failed to remove it within a reasonable period of time. People who hide behind anonymous postings will find that the website hosts can be required to disclose the identity of the author. If in doubt the BMA’s Legal Department or other professional lawyers should be contacted for advice.

Electronic communications

Under the current Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA), which has been replaced by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the UK Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 2018), data subjects are entitled to request the disclosure of information held on them by the BMA. The DPA, GDPR and DPA 2018 extends not only to electronic files (including external and internal email correspondence and including activity tracking) but to manual files as well. Subject to exemptions, the BMA is legally obliged to provide the information requested. To avoid the risk of a claim for defamation, it is extremely important that all recorded information relating to individuals is accurately and properly expressed. Anything which could be regarded as offensive, insulting and defamatory must be avoided unless approved by the BMA’s Legal Department or other professional lawyers.
The best practical advice is that any reference to an individual or an organisation should be made in measured terms after a careful appraisal of the evidence available with legal advice being sought where appropriate. If this advice is followed there should be no difficulties with respect to defamation.

Anti-corruption and anti-bribery policy
We take a zero-tolerance approach to bribery and corruption, and do not make or accept facilitation payments, also known as 'kickbacks', of any kind in return for a business advantage. Corruption is dishonest and fraudulent conduct, which often involves bribery. Bribery is the inducement or reward offered, promised or provided in order to gain any commercial, contractual, regulatory or personal advantage.

Time off for trade union duties and activities
Employees who are representatives of a recognised trade union have the legal right to be permitted a reasonable amount of paid time off work to enable them to carry out trade union duties. The code of practice for trade union duties is different in Northern Ireland than the rest of the UK. Further details, including a list of key documents that you may need to secure paid time off work, are available online. Whistleblowing guidance
Whistleblowing is a term applied to a situation where an employee, former employee or member of an organisation raises concerns to people who have the power and presumed willingness to take corrective action. You are protected in law from harassment and bullying when you raise a concern, and we can support you in addition to local support structures. A more detailed guide to whistleblowing, including case studies, is available online. Equal opportunities policy
We are committed to equality in the provision of services to our members and stakeholders. This ensures that all members, those applying for membership, and other service users will receive the highest possible standards of service from us, irrespective of race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, civil partnership status, age, disability, chronic illness, religion or belief. You can read further details on our equal opportunities policy online. (https://www.bma.org.uk/about-us/equality-diversity-and-inclusion)
