CALL FOR ABSTRACTS: PARTICIPATION TERMS

The corresponding author accepts the following terms and conditions on behalf of all named authors:

- All work submitted is original and all authors have given permission for the work to be submitted to ICPH2020. The corresponding author confirms on behalf of all authors that the abstract is not defamatory or unlawful, does not infringe the rights (including without limitation intellectual property rights) of any party, and that they have obtained all necessary permissions relating to images, data and content submitted.

- The corresponding author gives permission on behalf of all authors for the BMA to publish, reproduce, distribute, display and store the abstract, together with author names and biographies, worldwide in all forms, formats and media now known or as developed in the future for the purposes of the ICPH2020, including without limitation publication on the ICPH2020 webpage and abstract publication.

- All abstracts will be peer reviewed by two competent reviewers and corresponding authors will be advised of the outcome of their submission in April 2020.

- Presenting authors must register to attend ICPH2020, including without limitation paying the relevant registration fee. Authors will be notified as soon as conference registration is open. The BMA accepts no liability for travel, lodging, subsistence or any other expenses incurred by any author in participating in the conference.

- The corresponding author confirms all authors’ consent to the inclusion of their name and affiliation (place of work or study) with the abstract on the conference webpage and in the conference abstract publication.

- The BMA may use personal data supplied by any author for the purpose of delivering ICPH2020, and will use such personal data in accordance with the BMA’s privacy policy: https://www.bma.org.uk/about-us/legal-policies/privacy-policy

- All correspondence relating to abstracts will be undertaken by email with the corresponding author only. Corresponding authors must communicate any relevant information regarding the submitted abstract and the conference to the other authors.

- The official language of the conference is English and there will be no translation facilities.
