Agenda publication

The agenda will be published at least two weeks before the conference; this will be sent to everyone who is registered, all LMC offices and posted on the BMA listservers and on the BMA website. Up until the day of publication, the agenda is strictly confidential and cannot be shared in advance.

Too many motions are received from LMCs than can ever be debated and that is why the agenda is presented in two parts:

- Part 1 being those motions prioritised for debate, and
- Part 2, those that the Agenda Committee felt would not be reached, would not make impact, or could not change policy, or were a restatement of already accepted policy 'A' motions or 'AR' motions.

When a motion is accepted as written, it is the exact wording that will be taken forward as GPC/BMA policy, therefore the agenda committee will be strict when scrutinising the wording of motions, so be sure to follow the motion writing advice.

Part 2 of the agenda also has motions that, whilst the sentiment is good, the motions were in some way incompetent or were thought unlikely to be reached once more pressing matters were debated.

Following feedback from LMCs and questions as to why some motions do not get prioritised for debate, the agenda committee are trialling a new format to Part 2 of the Agenda to make this clearer. Part "2a" will show motions which were suitable for submission to the UK Conference, but nevertheless were not prioritised due to not fitting in any prioritised bracket, or simply due to lack of debating time. In contrast, Part "2b" will show motions which were unsuitable for submission to the UK Conference, for reasons such as being nation specific, not GP specific, or due to procedural problems with their wording. It is hoped this new structure will provide clarity to LMCs as to why a motion may not have been prioritised.

All motions chosen for debate are collated into topics, and those motions that are expressing the same views or sentiments are grouped together under one motion that is chosen as a lead motion; this is often either a composite motion (the agenda committee will pull together parts of different motions together), if there is a concise, accurate and competent motion from an LMC that covers the topic, then that is chosen. This lead motion is highlighted in bold and all other motions that are related to that motion are placed into a bracket underneath.

If the bold motion is an agenda committee composite, the motion will state which LMC will open the debate and that LMC's motion will appear next in the bracket.

Example:

AGENDA COMMITTEE TO BE PROPOSED BY TOWER HAMLETS: That conference, in respect of the response of general practice to the COVID-19 pandemic, commends practices for stepping up to the unique challenges, and:

- (i) congratulates GPs and clinicians for developing and using alternative consulting methods during the pandemic
- (ii) believes that finding our way through the COVID-19 pandemic has been and continues to be a driver for modernisation and positive developments
- (iii) believes general practice has demonstrated that the GP partnership model works and expects the government to remain committed to this model of primary care
- (iv) instructs GPC England to inform the government that GPs will not accept the return to the previous conditions of micromanagement and central control once the pandemic is over
- (v) mandates GPC England to use this to insist on investment in the core contract rather than the flawed PCN model.

The lead motion will have a * next to it. This will be the motion that is being debated overall, with the other motions in the bracket supporting it. This is the motion that will be voted on rather than all the others in the bracket.

Pre-conference

Once the agenda has been published, there are more ways for you to get involved and contribute to the conference. This can be done in a variety of ways, including:

Chosen motions

Time is set aside on the agenda for chosen motions; this is essentially a way for you to choose up to three motions from part 2 and bring them into part 1 of the agenda to hear them debated. To vote for your chosen motions, follow the instructions in the information pack sent to you with the agenda and the agenda committee will consider the number of votes received for specific motions.

New business

As motions are submitted a couple of months in advance of the conference, anything that was not known before the closing date for motions could be deemed as new business. You can submit motions for new business to be considered by the agenda committee; information on how to submit your new business motions will be provided in the information pack sent to you with the agenda.

Riders/amendments

Sometimes motions are just not clear enough, so there is a desire to add words to clarify or there is a wish to amend the motion to better reflect the original sense of the motion.

How this is done, and the rules of debate, are set out in the standing orders. Requests for amendments and riders must be in writing and must be approved by the LMC originally proposing the motion. The final decision as to whether these can be debated rests with the chair.

Supplementary agenda

The supplementary agenda is an additional agenda sent out just before the conference; this will list any changes since the time of publication of the agenda including chosen motions, new business motions, and any riders/amendments of motions.

Preparing your speech

Your LMC has a motion prioritised for debate and you are asked to propose the motion.

Things to think about:

- You have three minutes to propose a motion
- Try to keep it as short and concise as possible
- Make it personal to yourself and use examples
- If giving a speech in person, make sure you have practised so you feel comfortable
- If giving a pre-recorded speech, make sure you are somewhere quiet, lit from the front (no windows behind you), project your voice and speak clearly, and submit using an MP4 format
- You will be guided by a timer to remain on time on the day of conference.

Day of conference

Teach in

The day will start with a teach in this is for anyone who would like to know how conference operates, especially for anyone who is new or would like a refresher, it is also a time to ask any questions or points of clarification from a member of the agenda committee.

Speaker slips

If you are proposing a motion or speaking for or against a motion, you must complete a speaker slip to indicate to the agenda committee that you would like to be considered to speak. Filling in a speaker slip will require you to provide your name, your LMC, what motion you are speaking to, whether you are proposing, speaking for or against the motion, if you are a first-time speaker, your telephone number and if you agree to GDPR (if you are happy to have your name read out in conference and be seen on the conference video feed/ conference photographs).

Proposing a motion

If you are proposing a motion you must complete a speaker slip for the chair to know to call you, you have three minutes to propose your motion. Remember to keep nearby even after you have proposed your motion, as you will be called upon after the conference has heard the debate and the feedback from the GPC UK executive team or policy lead, to sum up how you would like conference to vote for the motion, ie in parts, on block or take a motion/any part as a reference.

Speaking for or against a motion

If you are speaking for or against a motion you must complete a speaker slip. You will have two minutes to make your point, please make sure that you stick to time. The chair will do their best to call everyone who would like to speak but if time is short you may not be called.

Voting

If you are attending conference as an LMC representative, you will be entitled to vote; the options available to you will include voting for, against or abstaining. Observers are not able to vote during the conference.

Some motions will be determined by simple majorities of those present and voting, except that the following will also require a two thirds majority of those present and voting:

- any change of conference policy relating to the constitution and/or organisation of the LMC/conference/GPC UK structure, or
- a decision which could materially affect the GPDF Ltd funds.

No business shall be transacted at any conference unless at least one-third of the number of representatives appointed to attend are present.

The chair may take motions differently when voting, if the chair announces that conference is being invited to vote in parts, it means that each section of the motion will be voted on. For example, a motion with 5 parts will have 5 votes. If the chair announces that conference is being invited to vote on block, it means that the whole motion will be voted at the same time. For example, a motion with 5 parts will have 1 vote.

Taken as a reference

When a request is made to take the motion as a reference usually by the chair/policy lead, but sometimes from the representatives themselves, it remains the decision of the original proposer of the motion. Taking a motion/part as a reference means that GPC UK will take the spirit of the motion/part. If a motion is accepted as a reference it does not become GPC policy, but GPC will be mindful of what the motion is trying to achieve when setting policy or in negotiations.

Point of order

If the conference is held in person, there may be times when a member of conference wants to clarify a point of order, this could be to clarify an incorrect fact. If you feel you want to raise a point of order, please alert a member of the agenda committee, who can notify the chair. If the conference is held virtually this is slightly more challenging and will not be as instant as a face-to-face conference, however you can submit a question to the agenda pit, and the agenda committee can raise this with the chair.

Agenda committee/agenda pit

The AC (agenda committee) are the professional elected members of conference who order and collate the motions received into the document that becomes the agenda for the conference and are available on the day of conference to help you as much as they can. The agenda committee is your route to the chair and deputy especially on the day of conference.

On the day of conference, the team is in the agenda pit, which is just in front of the stage where the chair and deputy are seated, this is where you would hand in your speaker slips and ask any questions related to motions, standing orders or additional support and guidance. If virtual, the agenda committee is connected remotely and can discuss any issues and raise points with the chair and deputy and process your speaker slips and questions remotely.

Elections

At each conference, there will be an election of at least seven agenda committee posts out of nine (chair and deputy are set for three years) at every conference and a copy of the voting timetable with times and dates of deadlines for nominations and voting for each position will be in the agenda. All voting is done through the BMA elections system that can be found here: elections.bma.org.uk. For tips on using the BMA elections system visit the BMA website. For any questions regarding the election process, please contact: elections@bma.org.uk.

Soapbox

Soapbox is a section of time at conference that gives members one minute to highlight any topic that is important to them and has not made its way on to the agenda. This is a good way to build up to proposing a motion if members feel nervous about addressing conference. Soapbox is a good way to make the GPC UK executive team aware of areas that they may not be aware of and use the information to carry out further research and work.

Post conference

Feedback questionnaire

Just before the conference concludes, attendees will be sent a feedback form. Please take the time to answer it, the feedback that attendees provide helps the agenda committee to shape the next conference.

Conference news

Conference news will be published a week after the conference, to provide a record to conference attendees and the wider profession of the resolutions that were carried, the election results and any motions that were lost.

Motion feedback

GPC UK will provide an update on each motion and how it is being progressed, these will be added to the policy group workplans for regular updates.

Ideas for next conference

It is your duty as an LMC member and conference attendee to keep abreast of matters throughout the year, affecting or damaging to the profession that you think should be raised at the next conference.
