

ADVERTISEMENT

A fully qualified
first-year hospital
doctor will make just £18.62 per hour.

A doctor's assistant (physician assistant) in their first year will earn
over £24 per hour.

Resident doctors are asking for £4 per hour more.

That is why we are taking a stand so the Government pays us what we are really worth.

The starting annual salary for a physician assistant (someone without a medical degree) working a 37.5hr week is £47,810 or £24.45 per hour. A foundation year one doctor's starting salary is £38,831 or £18.62 per hour. The BMA is calling for pay restoration for all resident doctors in England. For more information visit the BMA website.